In Collapse of K. of C. Hut
BREST, June 17.—One American soldier was killed, two are dying and more than 100 others are injured as the result of the collapse of a Knights of Columbus hut at Pontanezen last night while a boxing match was in progress.
"Who can say whether coal is going up or down?" he asked. "In the interests of economy we selected an average price, rather than fixing a maximum price. That would encourage extravagance."

Aldermen Are Unanimous on Irish Freedom

Socialists Join With Republicans and Democrats in Memorializing Congress in Favor of Recognition

Lee Boosts the Soviets

But Alderman Kenneally Declares Ireland Does Not Want Aid of Bolsheviki

In a memorial introduced by Aldernan Thomas M. Farley at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen urging the adoption by Congress of a resolution providing for recognition of the Irish republic, the Socialist members found something they could support. Normally they oppose everything either Democrats or Republicans promously after it had been seconded by Algernon Lee, head of the Rand School and leader of the Socialist group. Alderman Lee, however, suggested that the board extend its sympathy also to the soviet government of Russia. .

"The development of the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland and the development of the spirit of internationalism among the Irish people," said Alderman Lee, "have made me glad to observe what is going on in long-oppressed Ireland. But the first to recognize the Irish Parliament was the soviet republic of Russia.

"I wish to second the expressions in this resolution, which I wish could be applied to Russia and every other opssed country in Europe

Objects to Bolshevik Aid Several aldermen jumped to their feet, but President Moran recognized William P. Kenneally, Democrat, who "Irishmen all the world over have shown that they are perfectly able to take care of themselves. They want no help from the Bolsheviki, either in New York or Russia."

There was loud laughter on all sides of the chamber and from the school children who crowded the visitors' gallery, but none laughed louder than gallery, but none laughed louder than Alderman Lee.

Then up rose Alderman William F. Quinn, Republican. Said he: "I can't sit still and let Alderman Lee say there is any spirit of internationalism in Ireland. No good Irishman ever throws bombs and no good Irishman ever was an internationalist, Irishmen may throw hot air sometimes. men may throw hot air sometimes but bombs, never."

Alderman Abraham Beckerman, Socialist, agreed wth Alderman Quinn that Irishmen were not bomb throw-ers. "But," he said, "there is a man ers. "But," he said, "there is a man named Mooney, who never threw a bomb, locked up on a charge of bomb throwing. Shouldn't we go on record as against the imprisonment of Mooney for bomb throwing when he didn't throw a bomb?"

Mooney Not an Irishman

"Mooney? Mooney?" echoed Alderman Kenneally. "Why, Mooney's a

"The Board of Aldermen of the City of New York, voicing the opin-ion of the majority of its citizens, believe that the principle of self-de-termination so often and so forcibly prolaimed in the noble declaration of President Wilson as to the objects of the United States in the war just ended should be applied to Ireland and that the time has come to recog-nize the republic proclaimed by the elected representatives.

"The Board of Aldermen urge the adoption by the Congress of the United States of a resolution providing for such recognition of the republic of Ireland.

"The Board of Aldermen, on be-half of the City of New York, ex-tends its sympathy and good wishes in the determination of the Irish people to achieve their national independence."

Lee Starts on Soviets

While the aldermen were apparently in a mood to consider international affairs Aldermen Lee presented a res-olution that expressed disapproval of the raid made on the offices of "the diplomatic representatives of the Russian Soviet Republic."

He tried to make a speech on the subject, but was cut off on objection of half a dozen aldermen, and President Moran informed Mr. Lee that he had exceeded his five-minute period. A rollcall resulted in the tabling of the resolution, 49 to 6, the six being the members of the Socialist group.

Approval of an expenditure of $50,000 for coal for Bellevue and allied hospitals was withheld by a vote of 41 to 9, and the proposition in to be 41 to 9, and the proposition is to be reconsidered next week. George White was present, representing the hospital board. Alderman Augustus Ferrand, Republican, wanted to know why the hospitals had figured on paying only $6.50 a ton for their coal when it was impossible to buy it for that sum.

How It Figures Out

"Our figures were $7.50 a ton," explained Mr. White. "The Board of Festimate cut the price of $5.50 at the price of $5.

Estimate cut the price to $6.50 a ton. We need about 9,000 tons this next year, and the amount we are down for in the budget will buy about 7,500

"What does the Board of Estimate "What does the Board or Estimate hope to gain by this sort of thing?" asked Alderman Arnon L. Squiers, Republican. "It is a deception. They surely know coal can't be bought for the figure they have named here. It simply means that the deficit will have to be made un later."

simply means that the deficit will have to be made up later."

President Moran of the board and President Dowling of Manhattan both explained that the Board of Estimate was guided in such matters by experts of the board of contract.

"Who can say whether coal is going up or down?" he asked. "In the interests of economy we selected an aver-

Here Are the Reasons Why

"STRUGGLING RUSSIA"

A New Weekly Magazine Devoted to Russian Problems

Should Be in Every American Library and in Every American Home!

1st. The Russian problem is the central World Problem of to-day. Peace in Europe and throughout the world is impossible without peace in Russia. The League of Nations is impossible without Russia becoming a stable democracy and a participant in the League.

2nd. "Struggling Russia" fights the Bolshevist tyranny and stands for the establishment in Russia, through an All-Russian Constituent Assembly, of a Government of the people, by the people and for the people. By fighting Bolshevism "Struggling Russia" performs a service of international importance. Bolshevism is not merely a Russian phenomenon. It is a terrible aftermath of the War, an international disease demanding immediate and energetic attention.

3rd. Every issue of "Struggling Russia" contains articles devoted to political, social and economic problems of Russia, and series of important Russian Documents. Every week the magazine contains an article by Catherine Breshkovsky, the "Grandmother of the Russian Revolution."

American Librarians on "Struggling Russia"

Celia A. Hayward, Acting Librarian of the Berkeley Public Library, Berkeley, Cal., says: "We are receiving 'Struggling Russia' and I consider it of utmost value at the present time when the situation in Russia is threatening not only the existence of Russia herself but the welfare of the whole world. I wish to express my hope for the entire success of the Russian people in their efforts to free themselves of this red terror of Bolshevism, and I am glad to subscribe for 'Struggling Russia'."

D. S. Pinneo, Librarian, Public Library, Norwalk, Conn., says: "Enclosed please find our subscription for 'Struggling Russia.' We cannot afford to be without anything so enlightening upon the situation in Russia, and you can believe me when I say America is eager to help the real Russia, and in the right way-not by taking the hand of the present murderers."

Gladys Judd Day, Librarian, Hartford Bar Library Association, Hartford, Conn., says: "We received your splendid weekly, 'Struggling Russia.' Russia's foe, Bolshevism, is just as great a danger to our own country unless thorough understanding of what it actually means is set before our people."

Mary E. McCoy, Librarian of the Indianola Public Library, Indianola, Iowa, says: "We are more than pleased with copies of 'Struggling Russia' already sent us and are expecting just as splendid articles in the next numbers."

Readers' Comment—"Struggling Russia''

John Spargo, the prominent American leader and writer, author of the splendid book on "Bolshevism," says: "You are doing a big thing in publishing 'Struggling Russia'—bigger for America than for Russia, even! You are giving us exactly what is wanted: carefully tested, authoritative, documentary evidence. I want to thank you from the depths of my heart."

George Kennan says: "'Struggling Russia' is excellent. I am sure that all my friends will subscribe to it."

W. J. Ghent says: "'Struggling Russia' is admirable. It contains just the sort of material that ought to make a deep impression on the liberal and progressive elements and on that part of the radical element which is open-minded and willing to listen to the truth."

J. G. Phelps Stokes says: "'Struggling Russia' is important and admirable."

Thomas E. Burke, General Secretary of the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, says: "I congratulate you on the manner in which 'Struggling Russia' is edited. I will from time to time use some of the articles in our official j so as to give to our members the true state of affairs in Russia."

T. Chas. Price, Editor, Union Labor Bulletin, says: "Allow me to compliment you upon your 'Struggling Russia,' which comes at an opportune time to offset the propaganda of ruthlessness which is finding birth in this country as a result of the so-called proletarian ascendency in Russia. I shall be pleased to utilize the information which your magazine contains in my comments and articles upon conditions in this country which are presumed to be a reflex of conditions in Russia.'

The first fourteen issues of the magazine contain articles by Catherine Breshkovsky, Nicholas Tchaikovsky, Alexander Kerensky, Leonid Andreiev, Paul Miliukov, Vladimir Bourtzev, C. M. Oberoucheff, Prof. Joseph M. Goldstein, A. J. Sack, Emanuel Aronsberg, M. K. Eroshkin, and others.
